S. H. OWEN, Photographer.

Vol. X, No. 1.

Nine years ago we established the Exchange here under what we then thought the most favorable prospects. The business men and citizens generally rallied with the most generous support; and the paper had a flattering start into life. Since then we had the financial panic, two severe drouths, the yellow fever epidemic once, besides many other drawbacks of which the public did not know. But the paper has lived through them all, and is now in a better condition financially, than ever before. It owes no bill which there is not money in its treasury to pay on demand; it is run economically; and it has many war-a friends. But still the business men of the town are not doing their whole duty. The number of them who give it material support could be counted on the fingers of one hand. If their patronage were to be withdrawn, we should be compelled to move away. The business of the town is not represented in our columns; yet our advertising rates are reasonably low. Look over our columns, and you will find only one drug store, one millinery store, two dry goods stores, two groceries stores, one bakery, one undertaker, one physician, one butcher, one photographer, one barber, and two saloons. This would about represent a little way station on one of our railroads, and not "the Atlanta of West Tennessee." True this is the dull season, and not much advertising is being done; but that is no excuse. Every business and profession in the town should be represented in the columns of the town paper—even if it be only in a three line directory card. Every man ought to do that much to advertise his town abroad and attract people to it, even if he did not get one dollar in direct return for it. We must pull together for the general good if we ever expect to build up a prosperous town. We cannot do it by a picayune selfishness. The Exchange is ever ready to aid in all works for the general good, and has done hundreds—yea thousands—of dollars' worth of free advertising to draw attention to and improve the town and surrounding country. But one man cannot do it all. His hands must be held up. He must receive the moral and material support of the people if he ever does any good. Will our citizens think seriously of this and act? We do not ask it alone for our individual benefit; but we wish to help the whole community. We could better our own financial condition almost any day by selling out and going elsewhere; but that is not our desire. We want to see Milan again on a "boom."

Smoke "Cherry Lips" 5c cigar at Blankinships.

Farmers and others desiring a genteel lucrative agency business, by which $5 to $20 a day can be earned, send address at once, on postal, to H. C. Wilkinson & Co., 195 and 197 Fulton Street, New York.

Buckingham whiskey of 1875 at Bank Exchange. The best in town for medicinal purposes.

Spencer & Brown, Greenville, Tenn., say: "Brown's Iron Bitters is favorably spoken of by those to whom we have sold it."

Only 7 patterns of carpets left at Frenz's, which can be bought at cost.

Fat Cattle Wanted.

We are paying the highest cash price for good fat cattle. No scalawags wanted. Apply to M. L. Baird, Manager City Meat Shop, Milan, Tenn.

SMALL CHANGE.

Trees are budding.
Turnip greens are in demand.
County Court meets next Monday.
Moffatt's saloon has changed hands.
The Indians have folded their tents and skipped out.

Ripe tomatoes pass here now from the extreme south.

Business has been very dull, but is picking up a little.

Look to our columns and find out who has garden seed for sale.

Messrs. Hardy & Campbell have given up the stable here and left.

Farmers are beginning to break up their land for the spring planting.

The streets are in fine condition now to work about forty tramps on them.

The country roads have wonderfully improved this week, and trade is better.

A new tin roof has been put on the long verandah of the Southern Pacific Hotel.

Several of our exchanges came out on the half-shell last week, on account of high waters.

March came in last Thursday like a lamb. It was one of the balmiest days we have enjoyed this year.

Milan expects to be honored by the annual meeting of the Tennessee Press Association here next June.

Jo. Turney passed here yesterday with eleven convicts from Jackson, carrying them to the penitentiary.

We understand the Prentice Club will give another of their excellent plays soon. Let them have a full house.

If Dave Taylor will take his club out and make a big crop this year, the members will do some good for their country.

Trenton Globe: On Sunday night a colored school house in the 12th district was burned. It is a supposed case of incendiarism.

Dr. D. Wyndham, of Memphis, has an advertisement on the 8th page of this paper, which may interest many of our readers. You can consult him by mail.

We have heard very little complaint of fruit being killed yet. Some has been nipped in the bud, but we hope not enough to effect the crop. The prospects so far are flattering.

The tramps still come by the score. We have seen it suggested that there is danger of their carrying small-pox from place to place and some towns are moving to suppress them. They are too numerous to be pleasant.

Our farmers are in much better condition to begin their crop-making than at this time last year. Mott of them have meat and bread in abundance, and plenty of feed for their stock. Everybody ought to prosper this year.

One of the completest manufactories of blank books in the south is that of Albert B. Tavel, Nashville. He also prints many law books, and deals largely in them, having the finest stock in the state. His stock of stationery is also large and elegant. Send him your orders. See his card in this paper.

Sol. Hall, colored, for drunk and disorderly conduct was fined $7 by the Mayor early in the week. For contempt of court, an additional fine of $5 was assessed against him. He was then locked up in the calaboose, when he became very obstreperous, and came near tearing down the doors, but was stopped in his mad career by Marshal Lusk. He afterwards secured his fines and was released. Several others were fined for small offences during the week.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Sam Williamson and wife, of Trenton, visited friends here this week.

Miss Craig, of Fulton, Ky., is visiting the family of Rev. W. H. Armstrong.

Mrs. Seymour, the house-keeper at the Southern Pacific Hotel, has gone west on a visit.

Dr. J. Y. Crawford, who is well known and has many friends here, has been elected President of the State Dental Association.

Billy Ragsdale is again on duty as baggage agent of the L. & N. road at this place, and his many friends among the traveling public are glad.

Steve Robinson, of Russellville, Ark., one of Milan's popular ex-citizens, is visiting relatives here. He looks well, and speaks a good word for his new home.

Two more additions to Milan society this week. Young ladies put in their appearance on Monday evening last at the residences of Messrs. W. J. House and J. P. Rhodes.

Mr. W. H. Algee, a teacher of experience and ability, has been elected to take the place of the late Mrs. Hutcherson in the College. No doubt he will fill it acceptably and well.

The Rev. Mr. Moody, of Fulton, Ky., will preach at the Baptist church to-morrow. Text: "They were called Christians first at Antioch." He is said to be an able preacher, and no doubt he will have a large audience.

Mr. Porter, of the Humboldt Argus, has been elected the Tennessee Vice President of the Mississippi Valley Horticultural Society. He will make an efficient and valuable officer. We congratulate him and the society on the selection.

Dyersburg Clipper: Senator Jno. S. Cooper, of Gibson, is the author of a bill to make it a misdemeanor for state officials to accept railroad passes gratuitously. His speech in support of the bill is an able argument and puts him forward at once as one of the brightest lights in Tennessee's intellectual constellation.

The lecture to "Our Young Men," delivered by Mr. G. W. Armistead last night at the Baptist church, was able, eloquent and well prepared, and the young men who did not hear him missed a rare literary treat. We regret that, owing to the fact that several other entertainments were given in the town last evening, the attendance was small. We have not space nor time to comment on the lecture.

Burned to Death.

On last Thursday morning a little five-year-old son of Wm. Green, about one mile west of town, while playing around a burning brush pile, was fatally burned. Dr. Henderson was called in as soon as possible, but the little fellow was beyond human aid, and lived only a few hours.

We learn that Dr. Mason lost his residence by fire in Jackson one night this week. Nearly all the contents were also consumed.

The good people are either in love with Tom Harrison or his clerks. Goods are powerful cheap, pretty, or something else attracts them, for he is certainly having a booming trade for these dull times.

Tom Harrison has no sign up, but the people find his store all the same. Something attracting there; go and see what it is. People seem inclined to trade with him at all hazards. He says if he were to shut the door, they would scratch under.

Safe Robbery.

News reached here yesterday that on Thursday night a safe belonging to Rufe Lansden, in Atwood, six miles east of here, on the L. & N. road, was blown open, and about $1000 to $1100 in money taken from it. Our information is that most of the money belonged to Messrs. I. N. Holmes, J. L. Culp and James Terry. Several tramps were seen in the village during the day, and it is thought some of them committed the robbery. People cannot be too careful now. The lines of railroad are crowded with all kinds of scoundrels.

The Weather.

Dr. Jordan is taking daily observations here for the state agricultural bureau, having begun Feb. 16. During thirteen days of February there was a total rainfall of 1.78 inches. The lowest temperature was 18 degrees, on the morning of the 18th; the highest was 76 degrees, at 2 p. m. of the 16th. The average temperature during the time was 44.01. We hope to make frequent use of these observations during the year.

New Hats.

Tom Harrison has just received all the latest styles in Hats; they are beauties. All styles, sizes, shapes and colors.

You can buy heavy Boots & Shoes at and below cost at Frenz's.

Mrs. Taylor, Bristol, Tenn., says: "The use of Brown's Iron Bitters greatly benefited me when weak and dyspeptic."

New Clothing.

Boys, now is your time to get a nice new suit. Tom Harrison has received a beautiful line of nobby new goods; the styles are the latest. You ought to see them at once.

M. L. Buchman, Bristol, Tenn., says: "Brown's Iron Bitters permanently relieved me of dyspepsia."
